SENATOR McNEIL DRAWS HIS KNIFE ON JAMES D. PRICE

Fight in President's Room
Narrowly Averted After a Warm Discussion of Agricultural Measure Before Senate.

PRICE CHARGED McNEIL WITH A MISSTATEMENT

"If You Insinuate I'm a Liar
You Are a D—d Liar, and I Will Cut Your Throat," Threatened Senator From Twenty-Second District.

A heated controversy between J. D. Price, commissioner of agriculture, and Senator W. D. McNeil, of the twenty-second district, came near resulting in serious trouble at the state senate yesterday when the senator drew a knife on the commissioner, charged him with a lie and asserted his intention of cutting his throat.

The difficulty grew out of the debate on a bill to increase the commissioner's expense money on traveling bullocks and for fertilizer inspection materials. A motion was made to delay action on the bill until the afternoon session in order that the senators might confer about the matter.

McNeil Opposed to Delay.

It was at this point that Senator McNeil, who had strenuously opposed the bill jumped to his feet and opposed any delay in taking action on the bill. "If you wait until the afternoon session to act on this bill the people interested in the passage of it will button-hole every member of the senate, as they have already button-holed most of them, and before the session opens, action on it should not be influenced by outsiders, but should be determined by the members of the senate."

The motion to adjourn until 3 o'clock for further action was defeated and the bill was immediately taken up and passed by a vote of 18 to 11. No action was taken on the bill after the adjournment.

At about 1 o'clock Senator McNeil joined Mr. Price in the president's room and said to him: "Well, you got your bill through yesterday."

Statement Not Exactly True.

"Yes, but your statement on the floor of the senate was not exactly true," replied Commissioner Price, grasping the lapel of the senator in an apparently friendly manner.

At this the senator became angered and asked: "Don't you think you had better modify that statement? You mean by that to call me a liar, do you?"

"No, I don't call you a liar, but what you said I do not think to be absolutely true."

"If you even insinuate that I'm a liar, you are a d—d liar," and he whipped out a knife—"and I'll cut your throat," threatened Senator McNeil, starting to make an advance upon the commissioner.

Trouble Is Averted.

Dr. W. C. Bryant, who was present, grabbed Senator McNeil's arm but the senator broke away, only to be caught by a man who persuaded him to go with him into a neighboring room. Mr. Price made no reply to Mr. McNeil and returned to his office on the first floor of the capitol with several of his friends and members of his office force.

Several days ago Senator McNeil moved that a communication from the commissioner levying the senate to inspect his department be laid on the table and not read. The senator from the twenty-second district said that this action was not prompted at all by personal feelings but that he did not feel the communications from the state department should be given the same consideration as the governor's message.

Efforts were made by mutual friends of the senator to have the bill hurried during the afternoon but no action has as yet been taken.

Price Hears A Lie.

Commissioner Price stated that he was in the senate in behalf of his department and was exceedingly sorry that the affair had taken place. He said he was in the official discharge of his duty but that he desired to make no statement in regard to his personal difficulty while there.

SULZER EIGHTH GOVERNOR TO FACE IMPEACHMENT.

New York, Aug. 13.—In all the United States only seven other governors have faced impeachment proceedings. These men and the results that followed were: Charles Robinson, Kansas, 1882, acquitted; Harrison Reed, Florida, 1888, charges dropped; William W. Holden, North Carolina, 1878, removed; Powell Clayton, Arkansas, 1877, charges dropped; David Butler, Nebraska, 1871, removed; Henry C. Farnum, Louisiana, 1875, term expired and proceedings dropped; Adelbert Ames, Mississippi, 1875, resigned.

Albany, N. Y., August 13.—With Governor Sulzer impeached by the assembly and the date of his trial before the senate and the judges of the court of appeals fixed for September 15, the spectacle was presented tonight of two men claiming to be governor of the state of New York.

As soon as the articles of impeachment adopted at an early hour this morning by the democratic majority in the assembly were presented to the senate, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn announced his intention of occupying the executive chamber.

Friends of Governor Sulzer declared that the governor intended to continue in office and would use every weapon in his power to maintain his position on the ground that the assembly had no constitutional right to consider

Washington, August 13.—The United States government has informally rounded the powers and learned that foreign governments generally will do nothing to embarrass the peace policy of President Wilson towards Mexico and are inclined to support it. Henry Lane Wilson, whose resignation as ambassador to Mexico recently was accepted to take effect October 14, issued a statement today attacking the reported statement of the British foreign office that recognition of the Huerta government had been extended after he had made a "voluntarily" appeal to the provincial president.

May Be Summarily Dismissed.
President Wilson read the ambassador's statement and was so incensed at its tone and contents that he promptly required Secretary Bryan to ascertain through the British embassy here whether the utterance of the British foreign office as reported was correct, and tonight the statement of Ambassador Wilson was summarized in the administration.

These were the developments of the day here in the Mexican situation, while dispatches from John Lind, personal representative to the Mexican

There was one brief dramatic moment in the Frank trial Wednesday so dramatic and full of interest that spectators were stirred as they have not been since the trial began. Solicitor Dorsey was cross-examining Ashley Jones, a character witness for Frank. He asked him if he had not heard of Frank taking liberties with little girls out at Druid Hills. "No, and you never did—you don't!" exclaimed Mrs. Rae Frank, mother of the accused young man, as she sat in the front row of the courtroom. It was the first emotion the mother

FOR ANOTHER FLOP FOSS IS PREPARING

Having Used the Democratic Party to Limit Massachusetts Governor Will Probably Return to G. O. P.

Boston, August 13.—Governor Eugene S. Foss, who was one of the candidates for the democratic presidential nomination last year, made public a brief statement today which was generally interpreted by political leaders to mean that he would seek the republican nomination for governor at the next month's primaries.

Should the governor return to the republican ranks, which he left to be elected as a democratic congressman in a strong republican district, and subsequently be elected governor for three successive terms on democratic tickets in what is known as a "troubled" republican state, it would mean three-cornered contest at the primaries.

Colonel Everett O. Benton, last year's defeated republican standard-bearer, and Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, already have announced that they would seek the republican nomination. Governor Foss' statement read today before a meeting of the executive council.

"If I am a candidate for the republican nomination, I will abide by the result of the election and will not run later as an independent candidate if defeated."

The governor frequently has expressed dissatisfaction with the present national democratic administration, saying recently:

"I am now convinced that at least the present national leaders of the democratic party offer no hope to the country of sane tariff revision."

Tallapoosa, Ga., August 13.—(Special.)—Charged with shooting at J. C. Jackson as he passed along the road to his automobile, about three miles from town, Bud Barry, a farmer, was arrested this afternoon and lodged in jail at Buchanan.

Barry became enraged at the auto just about 7 o'clock. He drove his brother, Henry Jackson, Barry claimed that the latter had scared his team. When J. C. Jackson's machine came along he fired at it but did not hit it.

While being taken to jail in the jailer's car, Barry attempted to escape by jumping out, but was caught.

STATE RIGHTS SPEECH TO BAR SENATOR RICE FROM HALL OF FAME

St. Paul, Minn., August 13.—Minnesota members of the Grand Army of the Republic, in a resolution presented to Governor Elmer A. Benson today, opposed the placing of a statue of Senator Henry M. Rice in the Hall of Fame at the national capitol because of a state's rights speech he made in the senate in 1881.

The last legislature appropriated $2,000 for a statue and the governor recently named a commission to select a statue and a location for it. The resolution presented to the governor today is the first of its kind since 1881.

"We will do all that we honorably can to keep the statues states right, but if they are determined to leave us, we will leave them in peace. Having spent my life on the Great Lakes, the rivers and plains of the northwest, being one of the early settlers of four cities, I wish to say that I don't believe that either one of them will vote a dollar for secession."

ON WAY TO PRIZE FIGHT ALLEN DEAS DROPS DEAD

Prominent Camden Man Is Attacked by Apoplexy in Front of the Grand Theater.

While on the way to the prize fight Wednesday night, Allen Deas, 66 years of age, of Camden, S. C., had a sudden stroke of apoplexy in front of the Grand building on Peachtree, and died within the minutes.

Mr. Deas had started to see the fight in company with his son-in-law, W. F. Watson, of this city. The two had just reached the Grand building, when Mr. Deas suddenly fell. He was taken immediately into the Elkin Drug company's store, which is in the building, but failed to revive.

Mr. Deas had been in Atlanta for the past several days, in company with his wife, Mrs. Deas, and his daughter, Mrs. W. F. Watson, of this city. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Allen Deas, Jr., of Atlanta, and John Deas, of Montgomery, Ala.; two daughters, Mrs. Lonch Road, of Plantersville, S. C., and Mrs. W. L. Watson, of this city.

He was one of Camden's prominent citizens, and a Confederate veteran. Funeral arrangements will be announced after his son in Montgomery has been conferred with.

MORE WITNESSES ARE CALLED TO BLACKEN DALTON'S CHARACTER

Following the putting off of the decision in regard to Dr. William Owen's testimony, seven Gwinnet county citizens were introduced to add to the thick coat of 'lamplblack' already smeared over the character of C. Burgess Dalton, the man who accuses "Fraud and immoral conduct in the office of the United Pencil factory."

All of the men swore that they would not believe the man on oath, and only

The men introduced were: O. A. McArthur, state senator; Robert C. the legislator; Sammie Craig, the legislator; Patterson, Robert Craig, Ed Craig, T. L. Ambrose and J. P. Byrd, well-to-do land owners.

At first, Craig the solicitor tried to bring out that as far as he knew Dalton's character had been good since he last knew him, some 12 or 16 years ago. But he was called back at that time by a final question.

"Mr. Craig," said Mr. Arnold, "Dalton states that he has been in the company of a certain man in the basement, would you consider his character good, if he were telling the truth or if he were lying?"

At this question, he had to admit
